

APPLICATION FOR 2021-22 EMERGING FILMMAKER PRIZE

Annual Jewish Film Festival of Dallas Emerging Filmmaker Prize in Memory of Dr. Peter Marcus z"l

The Emerging Filmmaker prize will be presented to a current student who is chosen for their submission of an outstanding short film which contains a Jewish theme. We accept submissions of short films in all genres, including, but not limited to: narrative, documentary, and animated.

Overview

After the untimely death of our friend and co-chair Dr. Peter Marcus, the JCC of Dallas, along with his family and friends, honors Peter's memory by establishing the Jewish Film Festival of Dallas Emerging Filmmaker Prize in Memory of Dr. Peter Marcus. Peter was passionately dedicated to this festival and continued in his leadership role despite his escalating health issues. The J is grateful for Peter's life and his contributions to Jewish culture in our city. The Jewish Film Festival of Dallas Emerging Filmmaker Prize Committee will make the final selection of the short film to be chosen. The prize for the winning applicant is $1,000 and the honor of having their film shown during the 2021-22 Jewish Film Festival of Dallas. The winner will also become an honored guest of the Jewish Film Festival of Dallas and will receive a free pass to all film screenings and festival events.

Only one short film per applicant will be accepted.

Disclaimer: the selection of the Emerging Filmmaker Prize winner is contingent upon qualified films presented for consideration. Submission does not guarantee selection.

The winning applicant will be contacted and their name announced at the end of February, 2022 on the JCC of Dallas website. Individuals contributing to the creation of the film other than the applicant are not eligible to receive any portion of the prize. Only the main applicant is eligible to be honored and recognized.

Award Judging Criteria

The Jewish Film Festival of Dallas Emerging Filmmaker Prize Committee reviews all submissions and will make the final selection of the Prize recipient.

The committee considers the following when reviewing submissions:

- Does the film have artistic merit?
- Does the film have Jewish relevance?
- Does the applicant and project meet all eligibility requirements?

About Us

The Jewish Film Festival of Dallas is a project of the Jewish Community Center of Dallas. 2021-22 will mark the 25th annual festival. The festival presents films which portray Jewish life at various time periods and examine the diversity of Jewish experiences around the world. Each film explores a different aspect of the human experience through a Jewish lens. We work hard to bring films that appeal to a broad audience. When we find a film that is cross-cultural, we seek other organizations to partner with. The result is a more diverse audience with a greater understanding of other cultures and backgrounds. Films are presented in various languages and include English subtitles. Post-Holocaust themes and the Israeli-

Arab conflict have been predominant themes of the films in recent years. Themes from Jewish life in America are often of great interest as well.
